

SM²EA NEWSLETTER

Smoky Mountain Mathematics Educators' Association
September 2014
www.sm2ea.org

TMTA 2014 State Conference to be held in Knoxville.

REGISTER NOW!

The TMTA conference will be held September 26 and 27, 2014, at Webb School. Don't miss it! Find out more at tmta2014.com

Join mathematics educators from across the state by attending the Tennessee Mathematics Teachers Association Annual Fall Conference, hosted by the Smoky Mountain Mathematics Educators Association. This year's conference will be held at Webb School in West Knoxville. Email: alice.carson@knoxschools.org, Conference Coordinator if you have any questions.

The Keynote speaker for the conference is Karim Ani. Karim is the founder of Mathalicious, which is rewriting middle and high – school math around real-world topics. Mathalicious provides classroom teachers with lessons and projects that help them teach the Common Core Standards while challenging their students to think more critically about the world.

Previously, Karim taught 8th grade math in Virginia and New York City and was later a middle school math coach. He has degrees from Stanford University and University of Virginia and was named in Education Week as one of the top young leaders transforming education in America.

Keynote Speaker
Karim Ani

NEW SM²EA OFFICERS:

This year's officers are:

- President: Jennifer Axley
(Blount County Schools)
- Vice-President: Chris Bradley
(Clinton High School)
- NCTM Rep: Anne Stinnett
(Knox County Schools)
- Past President: Gary Petko
(Knox County Schools)
- Treasurer: Cindy Bateman
(Knox County Schools)

SM²EA now online: www.sm2ea.org.

SM²EA newsletters along with other resources will be posted on line. Send ideas and potential content suggestions or news items to Newsletter editor, Leslie Howe at teachhowe@hotmail.com

Mathematical Quote

"Not everything that counts can be counted. Not everything that can be counted counts."

Albert Einstein